Emma is committed to supporting senior executives in achieving their full potential, develop their leadership capability and embed cultures of excellence.

Emma's focus is on coaching and facilitating individuals and teams in the areas of leadership, high performance, coaching, mentoring, communication and high performance team development.

She has facilitated in-house programs and coached senior executives across a range of areas including banking and finance, publishing, the law, insurance, manufacturing and the automotive industries. Recent clients include Ernst & Young, KPMG, ANZ, NAB, IAG, CGU, Freehills, Clayton Utz, Heinz, Hertz, the Hyatt, and Whitbread Insurance.

For 10 years Emma worked in a senior management role for the SYDA Foundation, based in New York, USA where she successfully restructured key areas of the organisation resulting in a substantial increase in productivity and profitability.

Emma facilitates a corporate women's programme, contributes to senior corporate panels and speaks at national symposiums on the subject of women in leadership.

She is an UNESCO Ambassador for a leadership programme "Torchbearers for Tomorrow" active in the Asia Pacific region.

For the past 20 years Emma has studied Eastern philosophy and taught and facilitated programmes on contemplation and self enquiry, meditation, stress management and aligning your life purpose both in Australia and Internationally. Her personal commitment and integration of these principles in her work and life influence her approach to leadership development and executive coaching.
