Silvio Rajj is a Fellow of Oxford Leadership Academy, Uruguay.

He comes from a family of artists and designers, which has allowed him to be involved in an environment of constant creative work and innovation since childhood.

For more than 10 years, he has been sharing his knowledge as a professor of design and audiovisual production at the School of Communication and Design of the ORT University, Uruguay. He is also Director of GSX Media, a multimedia design and production company.

In his search for cultivating his spirit and contributing to society, in 1999 Silvio found a way to combine his creativity with the art of managing people and began to deliver courses and seminars on such topics as the Quality of Life, Self-esteem, Stress Free Living, Positive Thinking and Time Management.

These seminars allowed Silvio to cultivate his passion for helping others to develop their true potential and to balance their personal and professional lives.

He has lectured in USA, Spain, Paraguay and Argentina and was trained in India, USA, UK and South America.

Since 2007, Silvio has been an associate consultant with AHS, Advanced Human Systems, a training and HR management consulting company.

He coordinates the VIVO "Living Values in Organizations" Programme with the Vivendo Valores Institute of Brazil.

He has also been trained in New York as a facilitator in "Appreciative Inquiry" an organizational development process, by David L. Cooperrider, Case Weatherhead School of Management, Cleveland.
