
EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Angel Cruz

SPAIN

“Very interesting programme which contributes ideas and questions, which we do not often ask ourselves. Why, What, How. It focuses us on the importance of coherence, communication and honest with our members of our teams.”

David Pizarro Munoz
Director of Operations
Telefónica, Spain

“A totally different programme, applicable from the first minute and straight away in my case that allows you to get to know you better and to get to know your team to perform as a High Performance Team.”

Juan Marchini
Former General Manager
Ferrovial, Portugal

Angel Cruz is a Fellow of Oxford Leadership. He has more than 20 years' experience as Member of the Executive Committee on a National and International Level. Angel is based in Spain.

As an Instructor in several business and coaching schools in Spain in Human Relations, Executive Coaching and Management Skills, he focuses on having personable relationships and bringing practical solutions. He also develops Peer-Coach Programmes and supports top end advisors and coaches in Spain.

Prior to joining Oxford Leadership, Angel worked for IBM (Germany, 2 years), Siemens Group (3 years), Danone (10 years), Thales (7 years) and Altran (5 years). During this time he was the manager of Human Resources Divisions and the Manager of Operations and Information Systems.

He is now a member of the Top Ten Management Spain community that brings together the best experts in each area of the company.

Angel holds a B.A. in Economics and Business Management, a Masters in Organisational Development from Instituto GR of Tel-Aviv, a Masters in Coaching and mentoring from Oxford School, Coach of Teams and Relationship (OSRC – Organisation and Relationship System Coaching) from CRR (Centre for Right Relationship).

He is a certified coach for the use of development tools including PDA (Personal Development Analysis), MBTI, FIRO-B, Belbin, and is a practitioner from PNL.

Angel works in English and Spanish.