
EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Elisa French
FELLOW

“Elisa fostered a community of openness and trust that allowed us to break down barriers and recognise our strengths and weaknesses as a team. We couldn’t have asked for a better outcome and we think Elisa was uniquely qualified, given her understanding of our company. The workshop agenda was very well structured and included very useful and interactive team exercises, which allowed us to discover our respective strengths and styles, and define common goals and actions.”

Régine Vittorelli

 EA to CEO
 SAP/Hybris

“Elisa has extremely positive energy, is warm, empathetic and at the same time gave me strength in my vulnerabilities, stretched and challenged me, is very professional and practical with much experience herself, having worked in corporate. A wonderful person!”

Dr. Nadine Berghaus

 VP New Business
 Henkel, USA

Elisa is a Fellow of the Oxford Leadership. Elisa brings the learning and wisdom of over 15 years working in the domain of Executive Coaching, Strategic Management, Organizational- and Learning & Development. As a successful business owner and entrepreneur with over 2 decades of transforming lives and businesses of thousands of people internationally, she has facilitated organizational as well as individual interventions for a wide range of clients from small businesses to large corporations. Her clients include: Henkel, KPMG, Deloitte, METRO, Arthur D Little, TetraPak, Monsanto, Johnson & Johnson, Vorwerk, UPS, Nokia, SAP, Mimecast, Vodafone, BASF, Cognis, European Relocation Association, Stand Beside Them. Elisa is based in the US.

As an effective change agent, Elisa maintains a balance of human empathy and integrity whilst keeping the bottom-line business results in mind. Her inspiration is to help her clients reach their full potential by executing on their purpose and vision to significantly increase levels of engagement and performance. Her work is foremost based on research into the foundations of leadership excellence and neuroscience combined with psychology and a special interest in mindfulness. Elisa is highly skilled in designing, delivering and managing a wide range of interventions. Some of her previous projects include: Global NeuroLeadership, Coaching & Teams Programs for Fortune 500 company managers, Strategy & Leadership interventions for executives to align purpose, strategy and vision, Executive Coaching programs for directors and middle managers, A Relocation Professionals Coaching Program in cooperation with Oxford Brookes University, Sales & Coaching interventions for partners at Management Consultancies.

She is a sought after master facilitator for executive coaching and L & D programs. Having been a active member of the Neuroleadership Group, Elisa is frequently invited to provide fresh thinking in HR development advisory boards; most recently at the European Relocation Agency and Oxford Brookes University. Her keynotes titled “Mind Muesli” and “Touch – Skills of the Heart”, are booked regularly at international conferences.

Elisa works in English and German.