

EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Roxane Loiseaux

FELLOW

“Excellent judge of small group dynamics. Pairings were great, intervened or interrupted only when necessary. Meaningful personal insights, influences.”

Douglas Gregory

Director, Public Affairs
Telefónica SA, Belgium

“Roxane kept us honest and was a good facilitator in our group. Whilst there was time to debate particular points she ensured we were on time and worked well together.”

Stephen Shurrock

Consumer Sales Director
Telefónica O2, UK

Roxane is a Fellow of Oxford Leadership and a Certified Coach (CPCC, PCC). She has worked with clients including Telefónica, BASF, AkzoNobel, Ferrovial, METRO AG, Santander, Bayer, Sony, British Red Cross and Vedior delivering both Self Managing Leadership® and Leading High Performing Teams Programmes. Roxane is based in the UK.

In her work for Oxford Leadership, Roxane also designs and delivers Train the Trainers Programmes and is committed to Supporting Individuals in their Personal Growth through Self-awareness and Conscious Response-Ability to create a Leadership Culture from the inside out. Roxane works to help people create from their whole self and thus make empowered choices.

As a Trainer Roxane also leads Coaching Training Courses at an International Level as a Front of Room Leader for The Coaches Training Institute (CTI) and she is involved in the CTI Coaching Certification Programme as a Supervisor, Examiner and Quality Reviewer. As a Coach, and Member of the International Coach Federation, Roxane works with Senior Executives in Multinational Corporations and Directors of small companies, as well as on systems within organisations.

She works to support executives in their leadership development by raising their awareness about their reactive leadership patterns under pressure. Through deeper awareness and centring practices, executives gain better access to a more resourceful, creative and bold part of themselves. They become more skilful at managing their energy and expanding their presence and so they can respond to leadership challenges more effectively.

With more than 18 years’ residence in the UK, 2 years in Spain, and experience of working in various countries, (including South Africa, the United States, Mexico, Israel, UK, Spain, France, Germany, Norway, the Netherlands), Roxane has developed a Multicultural Dimension.

Roxane works in English, French and Spanish.
