
EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Teddy Nielsen

FELLOW

“Teddy conducted a tailor-made leadership program for our employees in JCI. I grew to know Teddy as a very dedicated and highly skilled person, and there is no doubt, that through his direct and engaged involvement, he made a positive difference. He was very good in communicating leadership theories into everyday business. Teddy was very well liked and respected by our leaders due to both his professionalism, and his always positive attitude.”

Kim Voss Jensen
HR Director
Johnson Controls
Denmark

Teddy is a Fellow of Oxford Leadership. He is an experienced Consultant, Trainer and Facilitator, and has a passion for helping organisations and leaders to achieve Excellence. He has supported and coached senior leaders through organisational transformation, and has spear-headed implementation of major change initiatives and new ways of working in global enterprises. Teddy is based in Denmark.

Prior to joining Oxford Leadership, Teddy held senior management positions in the consumer-goods, IT and Automotive sector for over 20 years living in the U.S.A., Germany and the Netherlands.

Experienced with business operations in complex multicultural and multidisciplinary environments, he has an aptitude for Strategy Deployment, Business Excellence and Organisational Development. He is a trusted advisor and coach for senior executives, introducing new mind-sets, behaviours and performance structures. Teddy is a skilled course facilitator and has delivered many international leadership training programmes. His passion is to help leaders and organisations achieve their highest potential.

Teddy facilitated Cisco Systems in their transformation from a product to a process oriented enterprise, has helped build a Continuous Improvement mindset at LEGO in multiple business units and implement a strong framework for Business Excellence in Arla Foods.

He has developed and coached leaders at all levels and driven transformational programs by focusing on clear purpose, goals and actions. Moreover, he lead strategy deployment in multiple organisations. Teddy is an experienced international leader educated in organisational development, change leadership and coaching. He brings solid business acumen having worked several different industries and with Supply Chain, IT, HR, Finance, Sales, Marketing, Retail and Customer Operations functions.

Teddy holds a Bachelors Degree in Organisational Development and Leadership (HD-O) from the South Danish University, an ICC Coaching Certification and a Master in Project Management from George Washington University in the U.S.A.

Teddy works in English and Danish.